Curcano, May 2. Grover Cleveland. president of the United States, surrounded by members of his cabinet, by high officials of the various states, by a numerous and distinguished representation of lands across the sear, and by a mighty throng of American citizens, to-day pressed the electric button which set in motion the miles of shafting, the innumerable engines and mechanism and the labyrinth of belting and gearing which make up the machinery of the World's Columbian exposition

At the same nument a salute pealed forth from the guns of the Andrew lying off the exposition grounds in Lake Michigan. Seven hundred flags released from their "stops" at a concerted signal swung loose and out under the sky inscarlet, yellow and blue. Over in machinery hall a great roar armse, and the turrets of the build ing nodded as the wheels began to turn, Nearly all night there had been a

Owing to the small part taken by the military in the day's ceremonies, there was little marching and counter marching, and the streets were left free for the great body of civilians. There were some delegations from other towns who had brought brass bands with them, and these blared and tooted up and down the principal thoroughfares, attracting small boys and bilers. Most of the excursions split up into small part or an they reached the depots, and the bands were left to shift for them-
